Dear Matt,

I'm in receipt of the attached request and grant of withdrawal of local permit applications for the above-referenced project. Having withdrawn all permit applications for the project at the town level, there is no project pending or under consideration. Accordingly, I am confirming that the project has effectively been withdrawn from DRI review by the Cape Cod Commission. Should your client again pursue the project in the future, it will need to be referred again by the town to the Commission as a DRI. In such case, I hope that the applicant team and Commission staff can meet to discuss the project before any applications are formally filed with and referred by the town.

Regards, Jon
